

ERASMUS PROGRAM

Criteria for Student Mobility

The main criteria for selecting students to participate in Erasmus Exchange programs are as follows:

Grants are awarded to students who:

- Are formally registered to a Frederick Institute of Technology Program of Study
- Have completed their first year of studies (for undergraduate students)

Priority is given to students with:

- Good academic performance
- Excellent academic and personal conduct
- Good communication skills
- Good knowledge of the English language or the language of teaching at the hosting institution
- Added value for the student: Particular consideration will be given to applicants who may be expected to benefit most significantly from the opportunities provided by an exchange period, and who may not previously have had access to similar opportunities.

The maximum grant is determined on the guidelines provided by the Cyprus National Agency, which depend on the country of destination and the period of stay abroad. The National Agency shall reclaim any sum not used in accordance with the contractual provisions.